PUBLIC INVOLVEMENT

8) Was public involvement included in the development of this Council item (e.g. ordinance, resolution, or report)? Please check the appropriate box below:

☐ YES: Please proceed to Question #9.

☒ NO: Please, explain why below; and proceed to Question #10.

This is a routine internal procedure to authorize acceptance of funds from Metro for a long-standing regional program, the Green Development Resource Center

9) If "YES," please answer the following questions:

a) What impacts are anticipated in the community from this proposed Council item?

b) Which community and business groups, under-represented groups, organizations, external government entities, and other interested parties were involved in this effort, and when and how were they involved?

c) How did public involvement shape the outcome of this Council item?

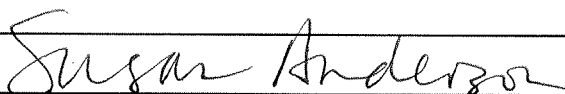

d) Who designed and implemented the public involvement related to this Council item?

e) Primary contact for more information on this public involvement process (name, title, phone, email):

10) Is any future public involvement anticipated or necessary for this Council item? Please describe why or why not.

Funding actions will continue to receive authorization through actions of Portland City Council and the Metro Board. The regional Green Development Resource Center provides staff who communicate with builders to provide information about cost-effective waste management and recycling practices.

5. Purpose of Agenda Item: Authorize intergovernmental agreement (IGA) with Metro to accept funding for the regional Green Development Resource Center housed in the Bureau of Planning and Sustainability.
6. History of Agenda Item/Background: Green building helps governments, businesses and residents reduce energy use, create healthy spaces for people to live and work, conserve resources and minimize the quantity and toxicity of construction and demolition waste. In 1994, a citizens' advisory group to City Council drafted the Green Building Initiative to create a plan to expand market demand and make green building practices easier to implement in Portland. In 2001 by Resolution 35956, City Council adopted the City's Green Building Policy to address the negative impacts of the construction and operation of the built environment on human health and well-being and the natural environment. Over the past decade, demand for information and resources related to green building practices has grown rapidly, reflected in the steadily increasing number of buildings certified by third-party rating systems such as Energy Star, Earth Advantage and LEED. Additionally, consumer demand is strong for products that are aligned with natural materials and processes. Finally, solid waste reduction programs benefit from green building, especially LEED projects where points are awarded for salvaging and recycling building materials

7. Legal Issues: None.

8. What individuals or groups are or would be supportive or opposed to this action? Metro, Washington County, Clackamas County and Multnomah County are the Metro-area regional governments that contribute funding or other resources to support the GDRC. Portland's residents participate in programs supported by the GDRC.

9. How does this relate to current City policies? The activities to be funded by the agreements with the regional governments are consistent with Portland's Green Building Policy, as adopted by Resolution 35956 in 2001, updated in 2005 by Resolution 36310, and in 2009 by Resolution 36700; and with the City and County's Climate Action Plan, as adopted by Resolution 36748 in 2009.
