GROUNDWATER PROTECTION PROGRAM
COLUMBIA SOUTH SHORE

Columbia South Shore Well Field Wellhead Protection Program

What is our goal?
To prevent hazardous materials or fuels from contaminating Portland's backup drinking water supply serving 790,000 people in the region.

Who is affected?
Business, industry and agriculture that use or store over certain amounts of hazardous chemicals within the well field boundary covering portions of Portland, Fairview and Gresham. Residents are asked to help by using household chemicals responsibly.

Which chemicals are regulated?
Liquid solvents, especially chlorinated solvents, fuels, carcinogens, hazardous wastes and other regulated chemicals. Products like degreasers, cleaners, acids, fuel, and corrosives when present over a threshold amount ranging from 10 to 50 gallons. Users that have less than these amounts may not be affected by the regulation. Compliance might be as simple as reducing quantities on hand.

What are the new regulations?
The program controls the handling, transport, and storage of hazardous chemicals to prevent releases to groundwater. It requires operational & structural measures such as:

- Store and transfer chemicals in clean areas with secondary containment, using best management practices.
- Have a pollution prevention team.
- Transport, load or unload chemicals with spill response systems including signage, paved access areas, drainage controls and other means of preventing releases from reaching soil, surface water, or groundwater.

What do you need to do?
Determine if you have enough hazardous material or fuel to be subject to regulation; then contact CCA for technical assistance. Field inspectors will conduct inspections.

When do you need to do it?
New developments require immediate compliance. The phase-in for existing businesses is:

- June 2005: Small container material storage areas must be addressed.
- June 2006: Large container storage and loading docks must be in compliance.
- June 2007: Tanks and all on-load/unload operations must be in compliance.
- June 2008: Transportation routes must be paved and combined.

What about exemptions?
There are 17 exempt materials or activities such as materials prepackaged for retail sale, furnace oil, non-saline maintenance, and construction – please carefully review the requirements.

Who do I talk to?
The Portland Water Bureau administers the program, funded through water user fees. Call 503-823-7493 or visit www.portlandonline.com/water/.
Portland and Gresham Fire Departments are responsible for inspections and enforcement.
The Columbia Corridor Association provides technical business outreach and help. Contact CCA at 503-287-8686 or www.columbiacorridor.com/WellfieldProgram.
For detailed program requirements, please refer to the Reference Manual, which can be obtained from the sources above.

One gallon of TCE (a solvent commonly used to clean metal parts) can foul 292,000,000 gallons of drinking water.

A drop of prevention is worth a gallon of cure.

St. Johns Boosters

Supporting businesses in St. Johns since 1926

Also called the St. Johns Business Boosters, the Boosters work to encourage small and large businesses in St. Johns through advocacy, education, and networking.

View our website to learn more about St. Johns and the many businesses, artists, and restaurants this neighborhood supports. Each member business is highlighted with their own page under either Eat + Drink, Shop, or Services. Check the pages for details including hours, location, and links to social media.

Look under Events to learn about scheduled activities, street fairs, and St. Johns Boosters meetings.

Whether you are new to St. Johns or a long-time resident, we appreciate your patronage!

PORTLAND, OREGON | GOOSE HOLLOW

STADIUM DISTRICT

MAP & GUIDE

Located in Goose Hollow, the Stadium District boasts a long and vibrant history and continues to evolve into one of Portland's most unique business districts. The Stadium District is home to many favorite dining options and pubs, things the district has to offer, as well as Providence Park Stadium to which it owes its name.

SWAN ISLAND

We build the future

Dusk on Swan Island
Swan Island – an industrial district located minutes from downtown Portland with easy access to all modes of transportation.

We're proud of Swan Island and what we get done every day. During the week about 10,000 people commute to their family-wage jobs in one of the country's most unique urban industrial districts - situated on the shores of the Willamette River adjacent to vital north Portland neighborhoods and even home to a surprising diversity of wildlife.

Tilt to open third restaurant soon
Posted by Cynthia Suleski on July 7, 2014

Brittany and Octavian Jurj, owners of the Tilt restaurants on Swan Island and in the Pearl District, plan to open a third establishment on East Burnside in August or September. The couple have strong ties to Swan Island. Andy Andersen, Brittany's grandfather, founded Andersen Construction and her father, David Andersen, runs the company today. Octavian's dad is currently a machinist on Swan Island. While in school, Octavian worked several jobs on Swan Island, including painting freighter trucks. Brittany and Octavian's family background and personal work experience helped shape their business vision – Built for the American workforce. Their first restaurant... READ MORE

VENTURE PORTLAND MEANS BUSINESS

The business of Portland is about more than business. It's about people, neighborhoods and culture. It's about finding the right space. Raising capital. Creating jobs. And being flexible. It's about passion. And dedication. And starting something because you believe your idea is THE IDEA.

It's about a vision for our city. One that business owners, residents and government officials share. A vision that celebrates the individualism and distinct flavor that makes Portland Portland. The knowledge that our diverse neighborhoods and unique views make up the very fabric that binds our city together.

The business of Portland is about a lot more than just business. It's about growing business and connecting neighborhoods to make more out of the neighborhood business districts we call home.
