

Rally/March Against White Nationalism Sunday, September 10, 1– 4pm

Gather at Terry Shunk Plaza (431 SW Madison), March to Salmon St. Fountain

On June 4th, Portland Stands United Against Hate, with the endorsement of 70+ community, faith, labor, and student organizations (see below), peacefully rallied at City Hall with over 1,500 concerned residents to send a message to far right bigots, who were staging a “Trump Free Speech” rally across the street.

Portland Stands United Against Hate will be mobilizing again to confront a white nationalist gathering in our town. We intend to draw out thousands to discourage these racists and haters.

Joey Gibson’s “Patriot Prayer” is mobilizing on September 10th a “Portland Freedom March — Entire Nation” featuring Billy Sessions, a Confederate monument defender, who has been active in violent clashes with those trying to remove these symbols of slavery and racism.

The merging of the “old South” rebellion with “alt-right” white nationalism is an ominous development. Their plan is to instill fear and attack Portland’s Immigrant, Muslim, Jewish, Indigenous, Black and LGBTQ+ communities.

We are committed to community safety and protecting marginalized communities. Ours will be a disciplined and secure event.
