WHEREAS, it has been demonstrated that the best interests of society have been served by equality in the status of men and women in the law and in the economic world, and

WHEREAS, the enlightened citizens of the civilized world are protesting against the discrimination in employment of women in Germany and some of the other European Nations;

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED:

That we affirm the position of our own United States Government in giving equal status to women in the law and in economic employment, and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED:

That copies of this Resolution be forwarded immediately to the press, City, County and State Officials.
