Mayor and Commissioners,

It's that time of year again—Summer Free for All—our movies, concerts and free lunch and play programs in the parks.

This program totals more than $2.5 Million but its value is priceless when it comes to the community building and livability it brings to our city—activating our parks and playgrounds in a productive, positive way, all summer long.

Thanks to generous corporate sponsorships that helped leverage support from the City of Portland. They include Bank of America, Collage, Comcast, Elmer's Restaurants—and in-kind program support from iHeartMEDIA Portland, and 93.1 El Rey. And special acknowledgment to the many school district partners whose support enables us to serve more than 100,000 free lunches to families in need through our Free Lunch + Play program.

Also, thanks to businesses large and small, as well as communities who gave donations and in-kind gifts, we will deliver 34 movie events and 31 concert events in parks citywide, including at the Washington Park Summer Festival and The Next 100 – Celebrating 100 Years of Portland Parks Golf.

Summer Free For All brings the best of community driven and culturally responsive programming, including movies, music, nourishment, and play to communities throughout Portland. It is supported by dozens of community partners representing neighborhood-based and identity-based organizations across this city—consisting of volunteers who help raise funds, awareness and enthusiasm for every aspect of Summer Free For All programming.

We look forward to telling you more about Summer Free for All 2018 in our report to Council on June 20th. Please see the enclosed promotional materials for 2018 and last year's 2017 Stories of Summer program summary.

Sincerely,

Amanda Fritz
Commissioner, City of Portland
