Purpose of proposed legislation and background information:

Title 12 was created in 1974. It describes air pollution conditions (alert, warning, and emergency) that the Oregon Department of Environmental Quality and National Weather Service do not use anymore. It also describes executive authorities during this type of emergency, which have since become superseded by City Code Title 15.04 Emergency Code and City Code Title 15.08 Executive Responsibility. City Code Title 15 was last updated in 2015. Bureau subject matter experts that were consulted were unaware of Title 12's existence and had no issues with its entire removal.
