

Resolution: Appoint Angela Jones to the Charter CommissionExhibit A: Appointee Bio & Statement of Interest*Angela Jones

Angela was raised in the Columba River Gorge in a tiny town called Corbett. Her family lived along the Columbia River. They were fishermen and educators. After studying journalism at the University of Oregon, Angela moved to Portland to begin a career in advertising. This career took her to San Francisco, Los Angeles and Sydney, Australia before bringing her back to Portland. She came back with two girls and an Australian husband. Today, Angela lives in East Portland with four mini schnauzers. She still works in advertising and she owns a bar and music venue called The Big Legrowlsky in the Pearl District.

- Statement of Interest: I want to be a part of setting up this city to thrive in the future and for the good of all the people of Portland.
- Personal Fact: I like to spend as much time as possible with my family skiing Timberline and eating at delicious restaurants in Portland.
