

The City of Portland has released the

LOWER SOUTHEAST RISING

Area Plan Discussion Draft

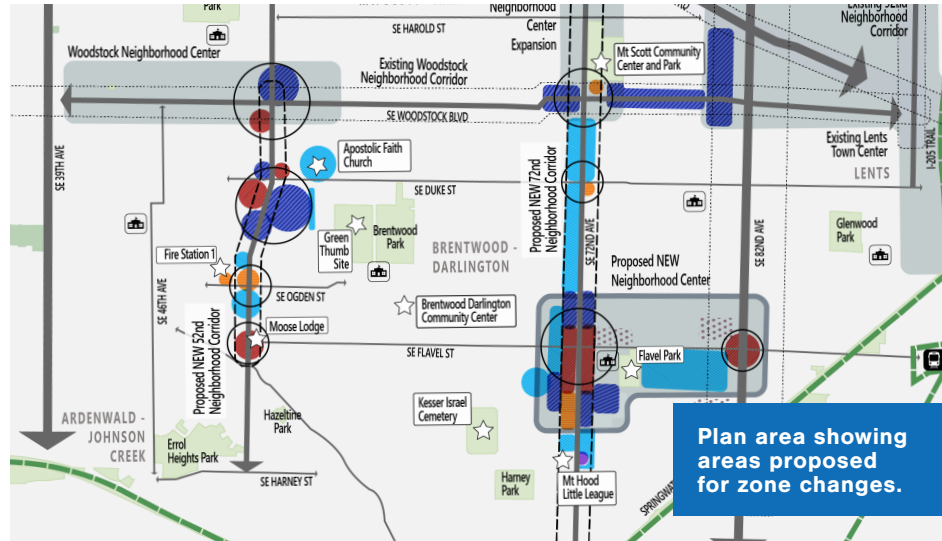

It includes proposals for zone changes that allow more neighborhood businesses and housing options, paired with transportation improvements.

You are receiving this notice because you own property or live in/near the areas with proposed zone changes. These changes primarily affect new development and do not require changes to existing houses or other development.

Learn more through our self-guided Online Open House where you can look up zoning changes for specific properties with the Map App and share your feedback through a survey (feedback accepted through June 23, 2023):
