To the Urban Forestry Commission,

You should continue to make it hard and harder for developers to remove big trees from their property. This is not a choice between housing and trees. It is a decision to preserve the large trees we have and money talks like nothing else. As the recent spell of hot weather has taught us, the natural shade of a large tree does wonders to mitigate the heat of the sun. Hot days will only increase. Please do what is best for the people of Portland. Thanks!
