New Staff at IPR

In late 2017 and early 2018, IPR added two new investigators and a new management analyst to its staff. Casey Clithero and Andrew Pease joined IPR as complaint investigators in November 2017. Casey spent the past 10 years overseeing student conduct and investigating sexual misconduct at Southern Oregon University. He has a Bachelor's Degree in English from Southern Oregon and a Master's in Higher Education Administration from Ball State University.

Andrew Pease received his Bachelor's degree in Communications from the University of Idaho and then enlisted for five years of service in the Army. Andrew has experience working with a variety of state and local governments.

Amanda Lamb joined the office as a Management Analyst in January 2018. Prior to working at IPR, Amanda spent 3 years as a criminal justice research analyst for Multnomah County. From 2010 through 2015, Amanda worked as a performance auditor for local government and the State of Oregon. Ms. Lamb has a Bachelor's Degree in Philosophy and a Master's of Public Administration.

Fourth Quarter Community Complaints Data

Preliminary Count of Community Complaints
Q4 2016 - Q4 2017

IPR and Internal Affairs received 113 community complaints during October, November and December of 2017. This was 12 more than last quarter and increases total community complaints in 2017 to 396.

One hundred three of the complaints were received by IPR and ten came through Internal Affairs. Of the IPR complaints, one IPR independent investigation has been initiated and intake is ongoing for thirty-three complaints. Forty-four complaints were dismissed by IPR, most commonly because no misconduct was identified.

Note: Counts for past quarters in 2017 have been updated because of data cleaning in preparation for IPR's 2017 Annual Report
