Zoning

What's the problem we're trying to solve?

- Policies guide us to make rules to encourage:
  - Housing diversity, including affordable and accessible housing
  - Pedestrian-oriented street environments
  - Respect for neighborhood context
  - Housing that supports residents' health and active living
  - Nature and green infrastructure in the urban environment
  - Resource-efficient design and development
  - Street and pedestrian connections that are safe and convenient
- Gap between these goals and what is being built.

Key Equity Considerations

- Impacts of regulations on costs/affordability
- Incentives for affordable housing and physically-accessible units
- Function for residents, especially features supportive of healthy active living

Equity:

When is everyone has access to the opportunities necessary to satisfy their essential needs, advance their well-being and achieve their full potential.

Project Topics

1. Site design and healthy active living

- open space for residents and green elements

Feasibility of new connections

Range of factors, including:

- building location/age
- lot size/dimensions
- additional zone capacity
- property ownership

Level of improvement

Where should a pathway be required instead of a full street connection?

Security and safety

What elements are most important for path design?

- adequate lighting
- width of pathway
- oriented homes towards pathway
- vegetation not overgrown

Neighborhood Context

Public street vs. private driveway

Would you feel comfortable using a pathway or driveway through a private site if it has a public access easement?

Driveway consolidation

Should properties be required or encouraged to share driveway access to reduce paved area?

Lot consolidation

Many lots may be too narrow to accommodate a new connection.

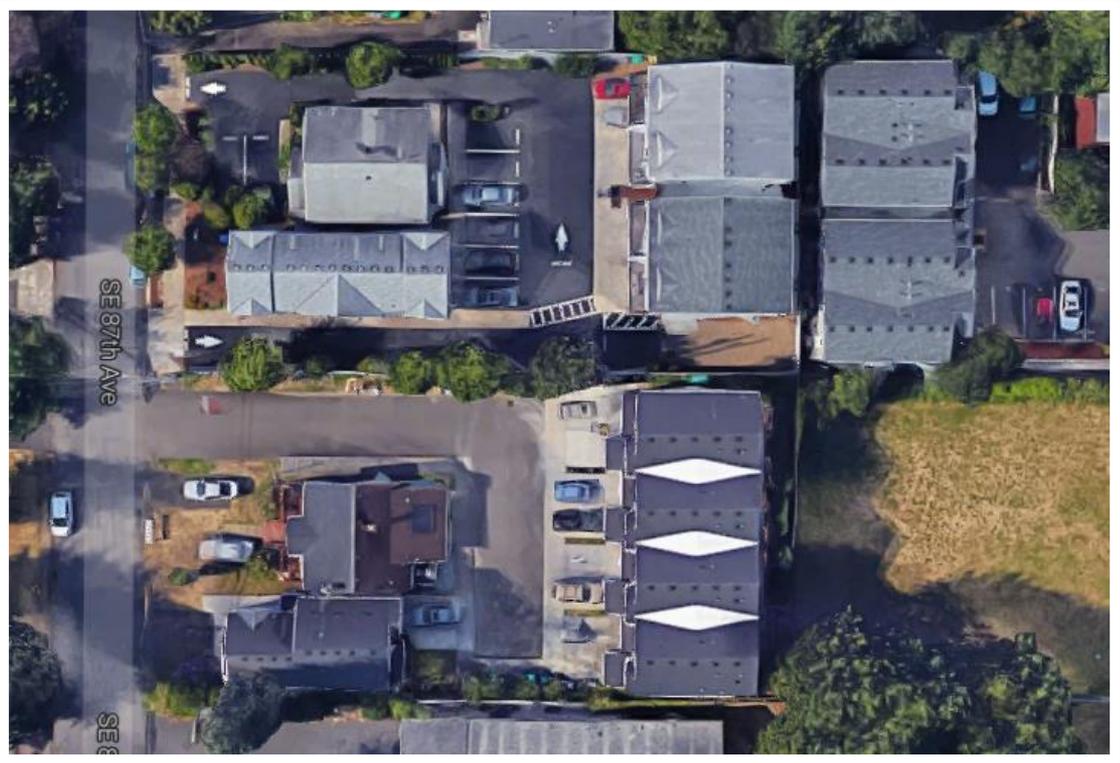

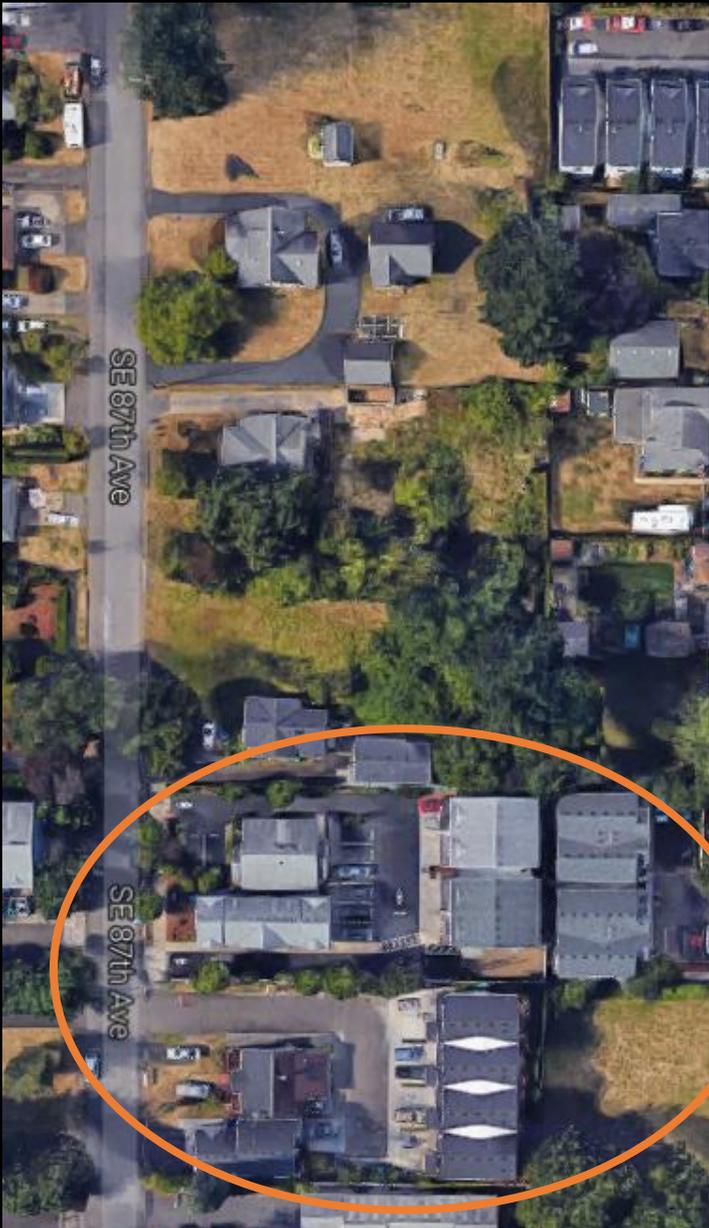

Should developers be required or encouraged to consolidate lots under certain circumstances?
