City Council Hearing on: Better Housing by Design Recommended Draft

Why am I receiving this notice?

You are receiving this notice because you responded in writing to the matter, testified at a previous related hearing, or have requested notice of this hearing.

What is this project about?

The Better Housing by Design Recommended Draft includes proposals for Portland's multi-dwelling zones (primarily R3, R2, R1 and RH) that:

- Provide a new set of zones (RM1-RM4) that regulate development intensity by building size instead of unit density, providing more flexibility for the numbers and types of units.
- Expand development bonuses for projects that include affordable units.
- Allow limited amounts of ground-floor commercial uses along major corridors.
- Address needs for residential outdoor space and make parking optional in more situations.
- Limit front garages and front parking.
- Provide standards specific to East Portland to promote better site design and new street connections.
- Change Zoning Map and zoning regulations for higher density zones in historic districts to address development scale issues, while providing incentives for affordable housing units.

How can I review this proposal?

The Better Housing by Design Recommended Draft includes the following:

- Volume 1: Staff Report - Summary and analysis of draft multi-dwelling zoning code and map amendments
- Volume 2: Zoning Code Amendments - Draft Zoning Code and Comprehensive Plan text and commentary
- Volume 3: Additional Zoning Amendments - Additional code amendments updating other regulations for consistency
- Appendices

The Recommended Draft is available at www.portlandoregon.gov/bps/betterhousing. Hard copies of Volumes 1-3 are available at our office at 1900 SW 4th Avenue, 7th floor. The bureau receptionist will mail you a copy if you call 503-823-7700.
