Proud that Cynthia Castro, my Senior Policy Advisor, won the Exceptional Wonder Woman Award from the Diverse and Empowered Employees of Portland and Women's Empowerment. One nominator called her "an extraordinary human and public servant"-I couldn't agree more. Congrats, Cynthia!

If our participants had to navigate the justice system unsupported, their capacity to plead their case started and stopped with their ability to afford a lawyer. A system where money determines peoples' ability to get a fair hearing from their government is unjust.(3/4)

Tonight's session will be 6-8pm and focus on housing and houselessness. Then, in two weeks (April 12, 6-8pm) we'll focus on economic stabilization and recovery. On Saturday, April 17, 10am-12pm we'll discuss community safety. (2/3)

Shelter to Housing also includes a provision to allow temporary shelters in community centers without having to declare an emergency. This would give providers the flexibility and efficiency they need. We do not intend to consider any amendments to that. (5/6)

There seems to be agreement that there is not intent to put temporary outdoor shelters in parks and natural areas. Next week, then, we will consider amendments that state temporary outdoor shelters aren't included in Open Space Zones, nor in any natural area. (4/6)
