

Portland Hope Meadows October 2008 Report

In October of 2006, the Portland City Council in Resolution No. 36449 granted Portland Hope Meadows the ability to use the former John Ball Elementary School site for the operation of an intergenerational community for adoptive families of foster children and seniors acting as foster grandparents. This report is being submitted to the City Council in accordance with that resolution.

Portland Hope Meadows Progress Report Portland City Council October 2008

Overview

Portland Hope Meadows (PHM) has continued to make significant progress in the last year. The organization has refined its infrastructure and developed strong partnerships with organizations that will help it raise the needed capital and develop the facilities in North Portland. We feel confident at this time that all the pieces are in place in the organization to help it achieve its ultimate goal of raising the funds and building its facilities, and program sustainability. The following items in this report are the milestones achieved since the last report one year ago.

General organizational capacity building

- Developed a partnership with Guardian Management - the largest provider of rental housing services in the State of Oregon.
- Contracted with The Collins Group for assistance in fund raising - One of the premier fund raising agencies in the Northwest.
- Contracted with ME Young Inc. whose president Mark E. Young was the former CEO of the YMCA of Columbia-Willamette.
- Invited to join Oregon Alliance for Children Programs – a Statewide agency advocating for children.
- Working with the State Department of Human Services, Children, Adults, and Families negotiating a final contract once the programs are operational in 2010.
- Partnering with OnTrack in Medford, Oregon focused on a statewide initiative for addressing permanency issues for at-risk families and children utilizing an intergenerational model.

Fund raising

- Refined and expanded the fund raising plan
- Created a capital campaign fund raising committee with long time community leader Bob Walsh as Honorary Chair and Rhonda Meadows as Co-Chair.
- Raised an additional $960,000 in cash and pledges bringing the total raised to date to $3,339,000 for both the Capital Campaign and organizational costs ($2.707M for the Capital Campaign).
- The Board of Directors has exceeded its Board goal and is still raising funds.
- Has submitted 16 grants totaling $1.8 million including a $350,000 grant to the Bill & Melinda Gates Foundation
- Has identified an additional 32 potential donors from individuals, corporations, and foundations that will be approached in the next three months for over $1,000,000 and have another $2.5 million in prospects to approach in the next 6 months.
- Has successfully completed two more fund raising special events that have secured in excess of $200,000 and have four more activities planned before the facility opens expected to generate more then $500,000.
- The full fund raising status is included in the project financial overview - Addendum A.

Board Development

- Added five new Board members in the last 12 months to bring the total Board roster to 18 members.
- Added the following levels of expertise to the Board:
  - Real Estate Development
  - Non-profit Management Experience
  - Project Management
  - Finance and Accounting
- A list of the current Board of Directors is included as Addendum B.

Community Outreach

- Regularly attended Portsmouth Neighborhood Association (PNA) meetings. Ongoing, open communications with PNA leadership. Presented at Portsmouth Neighborhood Association April 2008 meeting. (presentation available on PNA website).
- Reached out to individual neighbors through canvassing, meetings, and social gatherings.
- Changed design of the project incorporating feedback from neighborhood representatives.
- Assisted in planting trees during the Friends of Trees event in February 2008.
- Updated the website that can be viewed at www.portlandhopemeadows.org.
- Met with Office of Neighborhood Involvement
- Overall the project has garnered significant support from the local community and leaders throughout the State. The following is a list of some of the more prominent supporters.

Governor Kulongoski
Oregon Department of Human Services
County Commissioner Jeff Cogen
Oregon Alliance of Children's Programs
Morrison Child and Family Services
Native American Youth and Family Services (NAYA)
Children's Relief Nursery
Metropolitan Family Service
Children First of Oregon
Principal Tamala Newsome (Rosa Parks Elementary)
Trillium Family Services
Hacienda Community Development Corporation
Self Enhancement Inc.
Elders-in-Action

Property Development

After reviewing the options discussed at the last Council Meeting the Board of Directors determined that the best development option would be to engage Guardian Management to assist in the development of the site. Guardian Affordable Housing Development LLC ("Guardian") is a subsidiary of Guardian Holding, Inc. and a department of Guardian Management LLC which focuses on the production and rehabilitation of affordable housing. Guardian has developed and preserved over 1500 units of affordable housing in 17 projects over the last 5 years. Guardian manages over 12,000 apartment units in 150 properties, including 6500 affordable units. Guardian has also acquired over 3000 units of conventional market rate units. Guardian has an experienced development staff with strong financing capability.

A formal contract was approved, and Guardian has created a development plan that can be successful. The plan will include a combination of public and private funds. The total project will cost $11.3 million which includes all the construction and site costs and pre-development costs for fund raising and agency operations up until the program begins in 2010.

The funding sources are approximately 52% private funding and 48% public funding. The public funding will be a mix of low-income tax credits, and nonprofit bond financing. The private funding will come from Foundations, corporations, individuals, and fund raising events. Cash equity will come from a loan by Shore Bank of Illinois. A complete summary of this is provided in Addendum A the project financial overview.

Financial Plan

The financial plan – Addendum A outlines the sources and uses for the project. Complete details on the construction estimates are available upon request.

The private fund raising was addressed in the fund raising section of this report. For the public funding the project has been introduced to several lenders with positive response. The developer is anticipating a letter of interest from US Bank as primary construction and permanent lender through tax exempt bond offering. Michels and Associates, a tax credit syndicator, has preliminarily reviewed the project and responded positively to the project's size and scope. The next step will be to pursue a letter of interest. Other investors will be contacted and input solicited. The financing program will firm up after site control is formally conveyed from the City Council in October 2008.

The issue of site control for funding is critical. There are various foundations (Bill & Melinda Gates and the Federal Home Loan Bank being the largest) who will not consider an application unless we have site control. For the public side it is even more critical since the tax credits and tax exempt bonds cannot be secured without it.

Dear Dr. Schubert,

Thank you for your update on the status of the Portland Hope Meadows project. The latest architectural renderings capture a well thought out site plan that will naturally reinforce the community. I believe the children placed with Hope Meadows families will be well served.

I write to renew our Department's support and encouragement for this project. We are committed to being a partner with you as the vision becomes a reality. It is my hope that other communities will be motivated to replicate your effort with similar programs of their own.

Please feel free to contact me if you identify areas in which DHS involvement would be helpful. When the program is up and running, please know that we will do what is within our power to support you.

Both Governor Kulongoski and DHS Director Bruce Goldberg have repeated many times that state agencies alone cannot adequately address our public challenges on Oregon's kids. Thank you for stepping up in such a logical, innovative and compelling way.

Sincerely yours,

Dr. Schubert:

I want to personally thank you for your dedication to the youth of our community. Our youth need loving parents and stable homes that help them succeed in school and employment, as well as live healthy lives. Though the foster care system strives to achieve this every day for every child in care we need more options and solutions. Portland Hope Meadows, with its approach of bringing three generations together, has created an innovative way to help the foster care system achieve its mission.

I am excited to offer support to Portland Hope Meadows and its efforts to replicate the Generations of Hope Intergenerational Community of adoptive families and older adults at the former John Ball Elementary School site. This model offers an option for foster care youth to have permanent homes surrounded by caring and loving parents and grandparents.

The Portland Hope Meadows innovative model would benefit the community and provides another viable option for our foster care youth. I offer my support and encouragement in seeing this project become a reality.

I wish you much success.

Sincerely,

Tom Potter
Mayor

This model offers an option for foster care youth to have permanent homes surrounded by caring and loving parents and grandparents.

Foster care in Oregon needs more viable options and Hope Meadows would offer another choice for our region. Hope Meadows will work in collaboration with the state to help provide a safe environment for vulnerable children. This model is one of 18 sites around the country. Portland is on the forefront of creating new, innovative models of foster care.

The Portland Hope Meadows leadership team has provided updates about the progress of the project and we are a committed partner. The Portland Hope Meadows innovative model will benefit the community and provide another viable option for our foster care youth. I offer my support and encouragement in seeing this project become reality.

The Oregon Alliance of Children's Programs advocates for the needs of children and families, and for the people who provide them services.

We are a statewide association of nonprofit children's service providers. We have 39 member agencies that provide nearly 300 programs throughout Oregon, touching the lives of 95,000 children and youth each year.

These programs span many service sectors, and focus on outcomes that positively impact the behavior, safety and self-sufficiency of children and youth.

Our member agencies provide nearly $180 million in services, and raise over $30 million each year from philanthropic sources. We employ 7,000 committed individuals, are guided by over 550 community and business leaders, and are blessed to have 6,000 volunteers contributing their time each year.

To Whom It May Concern:

Children First for Oregon is pleased to offer our support to Portland Hope Meadows and its efforts to replicate the Generations of Hope Intergenerational Community of adoptive families and older adults at the former John Ball Elementary School site. This model offers an innovative, effective option for foster care youth to have permanent homes surrounded by caring and loving parents and grandparents.

In October 2007 I was appointed by Dr. Bruce Goldberg, Director of the Department of Human Services to chair the newly formed Child Safety Workgroup. One of the three objectives for the group is to make recommendations about improving outcomes for foster youth. The group's recommendations, to be released in a final report in early September, includes steps to ensure expedient solutions to permanency with adoption as a best practices result.

The Portland Hope Meadows innovative model would benefit the community and provide another viable option for our foster youth. Our organization offers our support and encouragement in seeing this project become a reality.

Sincerely,

Robin Christian

Dear Mayor Potter:

Elders in Action, a powerful voice of older adults, has learned of the exciting new community living model being developed to create Portland Hope Meadows at the former John Ball Elementary School site. A number of our volunteers and staff have met with the Portland Hope Meadows leadership team to provide input and to gain knowledge of this unique effort to replicate the Generations of Hope Intergenerational Community model.

Affordable housing options and community involvement have been long time priorities for Elders in Action. We believe that there should be a variety of living options that allow people to age in place and opportunities for meaningful involvement to harness the talent and wisdom that older adults can provide. This model offers both by providing foster care youth with permanent homes surrounded by caring and loving parents and grandparents.

The Portland Hope Meadows innovative model would benefit the community and provide another viable option for our foster care youth. Elders in Action offers our support and encouragement in seeing this project become a reality. We have offered to provide the expert evaluation and input of our trained elder volunteers during the building design phase to ensure that signage, color selection, and other amenities are "Elder Friendly". We see this as a valuable opportunity to create a new community of elders and families that can be an asset to the surrounding neighborhood.

We believe the quality of life should never depend on age and want to ensure a vibrant community through the active involvement of older adults. We look forward to working with the Portland Hope Meadows Team as this innovative project becomes a reality.

Sincerely,

Vicki Hersen
Executive Director

To Whom It May Concern:

Hacienda CDC is excited to offer support to Portland Hope Meadows and its efforts to replicate the Generations of Hope Intergenerational Community of adoptive families and older adults at the former John Ball Elementary School site. We understand that your model offers an innovative, effective option for foster care youth to have permanent homes surrounded by caring and loving parents and grandparents.

According to the Children's Defense Fund, "children in foster care or with a history of abuse and neglect are at higher risk of being trapped in the cradle to prison pipeline." Portland Hope Meadows is necessary because there is currently no alternative that connects foster children with permanent, adoptive families in a community that is designed specifically to nurture them and help them become successful adults. On an average daily basis, 10,200 kids are in foster care in Oregon, 17% of which are Latino kids - a concern shared by our constituents.

Furthermore, according to a DHS Adoptions 2006 report, "homes for older children, children of color, and sibling groups continue to be in high demand." We share a collective concern that youth are growing up in "permanent foster care" rather than in permanent adoptive families. As a result they are at a disadvantage with regard to social support, access to education opportunities post-age 18 and their housing is potentially compromised because they have nowhere to go. They are likely to experience mental health issues and have low income employment and rely on welfare to make ends meet. Giving them a permanent adoptive home sets them up for success and support in their early adult years and beyond.

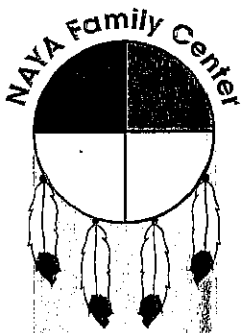

The multigenerational aspect of the Portland Hope Meadows program mirrors the cultural values found in the Latino community whereby three generations come together to support one another with care, nurturance and inclusion.

Thank you for the opportunity to comment on this proposal. If I can provide additional information, please contact me at (503)961-6401 or by email pferrari@haciendacdc.org.

On behalf of the Children's Relief Nursery and our Board of Directors, I am excited to offer support to Portland Hope Meadows and its efforts to replicate the Generations of Hope Intergenerational Community of adoptive families and older adults at the former John Ball elementary School site in North Portland. This model offers an innovative, effective option for foster care youth to have permanent homes surrounded by caring and loving parents and grandparents.

For your information, the Children's Relief Nursery is a nonprofit service provider in the North Portland community of St. John's. Our mission is to serve children birth thru four years of age who are at high risk for abuse and neglect. Our program combines a comprehensive portfolio of services designed to address social and emotional developmental delays in young children that can result from abuse and neglect, strengthen parenting skills and family relationships, and help parents understand and access community resources and services. Families in the program generally exhibit a number of risk factors, all of which place both children and parents at risk of harmful behavior: poverty, substance abuse, a history of domestic violence, food insecurity, homelessness, and mental health concerns. We are excited to see the development of Portland Hope Meadows as we know they will further enhance and enrich the support service network available to children in our community.

The Portland Hope Meadows leadership team has provided updates about the progress of the project and we are a committed partner. We look forward to the full development of this exciting program in our community.

If I can answer questions or offer additional information, please feel free to contact me.

Dear Commissioner Saltzman;

We are pleased to provide this letter of support and encouragement to you regarding the efforts underway with the replication of the Hope Meadows concept in the City of Portland.

Hope Meadows is an innovative and proven program to serve cross-generational communities with specific attention toward serving foster and adoptive children. This innovation supports the Department of Human Service's efforts at keeping children safe and finding permanent families for children. The advocates surrounding this project in the City of Portland have done an admirable job keeping us informed of their progress and have engaged us in meaningful dialogue along the way. I was also pleased to learn of their recent collaboration with the Kellogg Foundation in development and foundation funding of this project.

I look forward to the partnership with the City of Portland and the community in the development of a site to replicate this program to serve children and families.

Thank you for your continued advocacy for the children and families of our communities.

Dear Commissioner Saltzman:

I enjoyed my meeting with your staff a few months ago. Generations of Hope is excited about the progress that is being made toward securing the Ball School site for the building of Portland Hope Meadows (PHM). We are committed to helping you and your colleagues and partners bring your vision for PHM into reality. Having recently been awarded a generous grant from the W.K. Kellogg Foundation to help sites with replication, we are now in a position to provide more technical assistance and possibly predevelopment loans or grants.

We have our fingers crossed that the Portland City Council will soon vote in favor of obtaining the Ball School site and granting the site to PHM. While we cannot make any promises at this point, I think it is safe to say that should the site be secured, we would be in a position to highly recommend PHM apply for predevelopment monies.

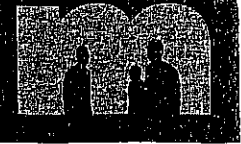

On behalf of all the children who would benefit from PHM, I thank you for all you are doing to make this a reality.

Dear Rhonda:

I'm writing to thank you and the other community leaders who are working to bring the highly successful Hope Meadows model to Portland.

The Hope Meadows model of creating an intergenerational community to support foster children and their families is an example of a much needed paradigm shift for a foster care system that most agree is in need of drastic refurbishment. As a member of the Multnomah Commission on Children, Families and Community and the State Commission on Children and Families, I am all too aware of this fact.

As a member of these commissions, I look throughout the state and the country for best practices that will improve conditions for our most vulnerable children and put them in the best position possible to grow into successful, healthy and productive citizens. The Hope Meadows model appears to be a best practice whose time has come to be replicated. I am very excited about the possibility that Portland could become the first city in the country where this model could be replicated, and I offer my encouragement to you as you pursue this worthy goal.

Please keep me abreast of your progress and let me know if I may be of help along with way.

Dear City Commissioner:

Please accept this letter as a pledge of encouragement to replicate Portland Hope Meadows at the Ball School Site. With donation of this site we can begin to make Portland Hope Meadows a reality.

I believe that Portland desperately needs an alternative to our traditional foster care/adoption services. This program will help alleviate some of the expenses that are associated with long term foster care such as; health care, housing expenses, counseling, and criminal services. Oregon needs these funds for Education and other programs. Portland Hope Meadows will also provide discounted housing for seniors.

As a member of this community, I can't think of a better cause than one that helps children and seniors at the same time. Again, I encourage the City to donate the Ball school site to Portland Hope Meadows.

Sincerely,

Morgan Smith
President
