BIOGRAPHY OF NEW CRC MEMBER NOMINEE

Lindsey Detweiler (nominated to fill current vacancy)

Lindsey Detweiler was born and raised in Oregon. She studied creative writing at San Francisco State University and returned to Portland in 2005 to study law at Lewis and Clark Law School. She currently lives in Northeast Portland and works as a Deputy Public Defender in Salem, Oregon. In addition to spending lots of time outdoors, Ms. Detweiler is a precinct committee person for the Multnomah County Democrats, an active member of the Oregon Criminal Defense Lawyers Association, and a member of the National Lawyers Guild.

This volunteer was selected by a committee that included one past and two current (but not re-applying) members of CRC, two representatives from the community, and IPR Director Mary-Beth Baptista. The matter of this CRC appointment is set to come before Council at 9:30 AM — time certain on Wednesday, March 31, 2010.

Please feel free to contact me if you have any questions regarding this CRC nominee.
