

ORDINANCE No. 186364 As Amended

Amend the FY 2013-14 budget to include appropriations for funds to address human trafficking (Ordinance)

The City of Portland ordains:

Section 1. The Council finds:

1. At least 469 children were exploited as commercial sex workers in Portland between 2009 and 2013, according to a 2013 study by Portland State University commissioned by US Attorney Amanda Marshall.
2. Twenty seven percent (27%) of the exploited children were African-American, a percentage five times greater than the percentage of African Americans in Multnomah County.
3. Portland has received national attention as a hub for human trafficking. Many more women, men, and transgender individuals over the age of 18 are forced into prostitution.
4. Nearly 1 in 25 men in Portland solicited sex for pay online in a 24 hour period, according to a 2013 Arizona State University study.
5. Portland was ranked second in the nation in rescued child survivors of human trafficking, according to a 2010 study highlighted by, Dan Rather on 60 minutes.
6. The Janus Youth Services staff estimates that for every young survivor they serve, ten more victims remain on the streets due to lack of services.
7. The City of Portland cut funding for services to victims of human trafficking by $117,000 in the FY 2013-14 Adopted Budget.
8. Since adoption of the FY 2013-14 Budget, additional one-time resources have been identified, much due to cost-cutting by City bureaus.
9. Of the many life-and-death needs in Portland, assistance to youth and young adults age 18 – 25 wishing to escape from the slavery of human trafficking is among the most urgent.
10. Providers report that both boys and girls are entering the path to sexual exploitation as early as middle school. Additional education targeted to vulnerable populations in high-risk middle schools would provide children with the training they need to promote healthy behavior and reduce the risk of human trafficking.

NOW, THEREFORE the Council directs:

- a. The FY 2013-14 Appropriation Schedule is amended to include appropriation authority for the programs outlined in Exhibits A, B, and C attached.
