General Comments:

- It would be beneficial for PPS to utilize either the BDS Early Assistance appointment or Design Advice Request option early on in project development so staff and/or the Commissions can offer project advice prior to submittal to the State Historic Preservation Office.
- While SHPO provides comments on project supportability, their criteria are different from City of Portland approval criteria and design guidelines. Since the City of Portland is the governing jurisdiction in land use cases, it is important to seek early input from land use staff and/or Commissions.
- The Commission also suggested PPS look at creating a multiple property listing that would include all school buildings eligible for historic landmark status. This could make individual listing of buildings easier in the future.
