

Dear Commissioners:

I have owned my home in Cathedral Park for 18 years. I cannot believe that you would even consider the Pembina Terminal.

Take a look at a map. St Johns already has explosive oil trains running through miles of old chemical tanks along the river to the east. We have threat of a huge oil terminal in Vancouver, to our west. And now you want to add a propane terminal at the tip of our peninsula? This proposal is insane.

We in St. John's area already host multiple superfund sites and have some of the worst air in the continental United States. Now you want to threaten us with explosive materials on all sides?

It's time to stop treating North Portland as a dumping ground for dirty, dangerous industry. We will not stand for it.

You cannot threaten the lives of a large percentage of this city's population just to create a handful of jobs--not if you want to keep your own jobs.
