

Friends,

As a Christian and a citizen interested in community sustainability, I am asking you to vote no on the proposed Pembina propane terminal. This kind of infrastructure is not a path towards sustainable development.

I am concerned about the negative effects on 1) the Columbia River 2) the people of Portland and 3) the people of the planet when the fuel is burned.

It is time for us to develop alternative pathways. There are many things we need to stop as our community turns in a life-sustaining direction, and this terminal is one of them.

If it seems there aren't alternatives for economic development, I am sure that a broad process of community input could assist you to generate options which are both economically and environmentally sustainable.

Thank you!

Matt Guynn
