Subject: Absentee testimony on Gas Terminal/Trains

My concerns about this project do not greatly vary from those of the other folks you have heard from. Allowing the highly dangerous gas trains through Portland is a guaranteed disaster waiting to happen. An accident or incident at the proposed storage facility would ignite 33 million gallons of the stuff all at once, flattening and killing everything and everybody within a wide radius.

Is the City going to make enough on this deal to outweigh the costs of rebuilding the whole industrial district and w. St Johns? Enough to ignore the inevitable casualties too? I don't really think that's possible. That is why you have to kill the deal w/Pembina- if you don;t it'll kill a lot of us!
