Portland Off-road Cycling Master Plan project is recruiting members for advisory committee

In addition to a broad community outreach and engagement process, a Project Advisory Committee (<http://www.portlandoregon.gov/bps/69070>) will guide the development of the Portland Off-road Cycling Master Plan. The Advisory Committee will advise staff throughout the development of the Plan and will have the opportunity to submit a Committee report in the Plan's transmittal to City Council.

The Committee will include 15 at-large community representatives, ideally including:

Trail and park users.

Portlanders with interests, skills, knowledge and expertise in off-road cycling, environmental stewardship, trail design or management, outdoor recreation, business, tourism and health.

Members who might be able to contribute perspectives or experiences from historically under-represented or under-served communities, such as communities of color, Portlanders with limited-English proficiency, low-income residents, youth, and Portlanders with disabilities.

The City is particularly interested in members who can bring and consider multiple perspectives and who can think creatively about off-road cycling opportunities citywide.

The Committee will meet approximately monthly for up to one year. Translation, accommodations and childcare will be provided with advance notice.

A Statement of Interest (<https://www.surveymonkey.com/r/36ZNF95>) must be submitted no later than Wednesday, November 18, 2015 at 5 p.m.
