5. Strategy/Method: (Briefly describe the general approach to meeting the stated goals and objectives. Discuss the rationale of this approach and how it relates to the overall strategy of the responsible HRB Divisional Unit.)

A. Operational Beliefs

There are several principles underlying the methodology employed by the National Council of Jewish Women and the Southwest Youth Service Center staff in accomplishing the objectives of the Center. In this section the principles are listed and followed by examples of how these principles translate into program strategies.

1. It is imperative to remain responsive to the changing needs of the community.

Responsiveness to the community is maintained through interagency liaisons, the Citizen's Advisory Board process, local community needs assessments and client feedback. Quarterly planning sessions attended by the staff, project administrator and volunteers allow the center to revise programs, develop new projects and incorporate community needs into the program. An example of this process in action is the Southwest Youth Service Center Adventure Camp. Through parent and teacher input, we learned of the need for structured recreation and crafts programs during Spring, Winter and Summer vacation. Many young children in SW Portland have no where to go when school is not in session. The SWYSC Adventure Camp was created to serve these youth and their parents. This program provides a day camp setting for six to eleven year olds and creates jobs, as junior counselors, for high school students.

Another example of this Center's responsiveness and flexibility in programming is the Downtown Diversion project. Through meetings with Police, Human Resource Bureau and the SWYSC staff, a need surfaced to offer diversion services at Central Precinct. The idea was accepted by the other Youth Service Center's and a fifteen week trial period was implemented. The program was discontinued due to the low number of police referrals. This responsiveness and flexibility in programming is a reflection of the Human Resource Bureau's priority that the Centers be community based and respond to the changing needs of its target area.

2. Natural support systems, especially family and peers, be identified and used as primary resources.

Experience has shown that the most effective way to assist change within a system is by dealing with the entire system. Counselors attempt to involve the entire family in the treatment plan when working with either judicial or non-judicial referrals. Besides involving the families in counseling sessions, the Center offers other services for parents. The tutoring, employment and recreation programs all demand either parental release and approval or in some cases meetings with parents to develop specific action plans for their children. Another major support system for our clients are their peers. To impact and further develop this support system, the Center has a variety of groups at high schools, middle schools, and at the Center.

In addition to the group counseling activities, several other services are offered in a group setting. Cross country ski trips, field trips, employment workshops and group tutoring sessions are examples of group programs this center has offered in the past and will continue to offer. In summary, our goal through family and peer involvement, is to assist youth and their families in becoming more self-sufficient and better able to utilize their own natural support systems. Ideally youth and families will develop the skills to take care of themselves.

3. Youth are accountable for their actions.

This premise governs the attitude the center holds towards its clients, and is most evident in the treatment of diverted youth. Judicially referred youth make an agreement with the Center to complete the following three requirements. They and their families must attend a minimum of one counseling session, and agree to do a pre- and post-test evaluation, and do community restitution. Community restitution is a service whereby youth who have violated the law "pay back" the community through some form of social service. The pre- and post-test *(Environmental Deprivation Scale), predicts the likelihood of further criminal activity and highlights the areas in the youth's life that are in need of attention. The pre-test allows the counselors to develop detailed case plans and to provide intensive services to those who are in serious need. The post-test, administered six months after intake, evaluates the effectiveness of this Center's intervention. This is the mechanism that allows the staff to be accountable for the quality of services we offer.

This diversion model is consistent with several findings of the Human Resource Bureau Reassessment Project. The suggestions were made that diverted youth should be held more accountable and that center's should have some method of assessing service outcome. This model is receiving a trial run at the Center and if the EDS tests prove effective the entire Youth Service System may incorporate it as a standard operating procedure.

4. Avoid labeling youth negatively and provide youth with meaningful social roles.

Programs at the center are consistantly designed to include both diverted and non-diverted youth. This creates positive role modeling and avoids the stigmatizing effect that can occur as a result of violating the law. Additionally whenever possible, youth are used as volunteers and employees at the Center. Jobs are created for youth as day camp counselors, receptionists, tutors, CAB members and recreation aides. Diverted youth are encouraged to apply for these openings when appropriate.

These premises form the core of this Center's operational beliefs. They are consistent with the Bureau's goals and the method of implementation is in line with the Bureau's standards.

B. Implementation

All services are delivered by either professional staff or volunteers who are trained and supervised by the staff. All clients receive a needs assessment at the onset of service delivery. The client then receives services designed to meet their individual needs. A great deal of emphasis is placed on establishing a trusting relationship with clients, the staff let the clients know that they are cared for and are important. Services are delivered on demand (without waiting lists) and continue until the need no longer exists. All services are delivered in a caring and professional manner. Youth are treated with respect for their uniqueness and concern for their problems. The Reassessment Project report showed that systemwide, a higher number of former southwest clients would "go to a counselor for help" (81%) and knew "it was a place to get help" (35%) before they came in for services. This graphically demonstrates the center's reputation in the community as a safe and professionally run place to receive help. Finally, all center activities are monitored on a monthly basis by the Center Director, to assure high quality and compliance with the activity plan. Through these monthly reviews service gaps and staff training needs are identified and corrective measures are taken when needed.

6. Service Area, Target Population and Eligibility Criteria for Services:

(Describe the service area to be covered by this project and the target population for each service to be provided. Explain how each target population will be identified. State the eligibility criteria to be utilized for each service provided and the method for appeal or exception.)

Service Area

The service area for the Southwest Portland Youth Service Center encompasses the following census tracts which are within the boundaries of the City of Portland and Multnomah County: 46.02, 52, 53, 54, 55, 56, 57, 58, 59, 60.01, 60.02, 61, 62, 63, 64, 65.01, 65.02, 66.01, 66.02, 67.01, 67.02, 68.01, 68.02; including the following census tracts in northwest Portland: 46.01, 47, 48, 49, 50, 51 and portions of 45 south of N. W. Vaughn Street.

Target Population

The population to be served during FY 1980-81 is youth between the ages of 10-17, with emphasis on youth referred from the Police and Juvenile Court for committing status and minor misdemeanor offenses. Method of justification for Youth Service Center clients are referrals from judicial and non-judicial sources. Schools, families, agencies, and self are sources of non-judicial referrals.

Eligibility Criteria

There are no fee requirements or income guidelines for clients of the Southwest Portland Youth Service Center. Services are available to youth between the ages of 10-17, and their families, living within the designated service area. Priority for services is to be given those youth living in southwest Portland between the ages of 10 and 14. Exceptions to the eligibility criteria may be made if they do not detract from the quality of services delivered to the target population.

7. Organization: (Briefly describe the staffing pattern, selection procedures and administrative procedures.)

Staff Supervision

There are six paid positions at the Center (see attachments for job descriptions) which include the Director, two Counselors, a Volunteer Coordinator, an Office Manager and a part-time Youth Advocate (additionally, two Saturday relief workers are utilized). Each staff member has a job description which is periodically reviewed. All paid staff are supervised by the director through weekly staff meetings, individual supervisory sessions and yearly formal evaluations. The staff develop quarterly work plans and then fulfillment of these plans is evaluated as well as their day-to-day job performance. Additionally, one counselor is designated as supervising counselor. He/she is responsible for clinical supervision of all counseling activities. Graduate counseling students are assigned to each counselor who in turn supervises their progress. The supervising counselor conducts weekly counseling staff meetings, at which time group supervision and case sharing takes place. He/she monitors all open files through monthly individual meetings with those providing counseling. Other supervision is provided by the Volunteer Coordinator. She/he provides each volunteer with a job discription and work plan. The volunteers receive training and group supervision at weekly meetings and they are each assigned to a staff member for direct supervision. Finally, on a monthly basis, the director and office manager review every open file to monitor individual and overall agency performance.

Staff Training

A three pronged approach is used to provide paid and volunteer staff with additional training.

- 1) Professional consultants are hired to provide staff development in areas such as family counseling skills, group facilitation, organizational development and any other area identified as necessary.
- 2) On a monthly basis staff provide in-house training at the staff meetings. Each staff member has the opportunity to share their skills and receive experience as a trainer. Topics covered have ranged from interviewing skills to stress management to personality assessment. This type of training is useful for team building as well as skill enhancement.
- 3) Staff members have training allocations in the budget which may be spent for workshop or course attendance. This training plan leads to a well trained staff that is continuously expanding their horizons and improving their skills.

Staff Selection

When vacancies occur the director notifies the project administrator. Job announcements are sent to minority recruitment sites, Youth Service Centers and the Oregonian. Resumes are then reviewed by the Director and key staff. The hiring team (including the director and two staff) conducts standardized interviews with a minimum of five applicants. After a decision has been made all finalists receive telephone notification and the other applicants receive rejection letters.

Working Hours and Holidays

The Center is officially open Monday through Thursday 9:00 a.m. to 10:00 p.m., Friday 9:00 a.m. to 11:00 p.m., and Saturday from 4:00 p.m. to 11:00 p.m. Official holidays for the Center staff are: Christmas Eve Day, Christmas Day, Thanksgiving Day, Labor Day, Independence Day, Memorial Day and New Year's Day.

8. Applicant Agency Administration: (Describe the qualifications of the incorporated agency, including experience, support services to be provided for this project and other related projects operated by the agency. Describe the functions of the Board of Directors as they relate to this project.)

The National Council of Jewish Women (NCJW) has been giving service to this community since 1896 and has a history of dependability and success. In addition to social action and education, the Council has focused its attention on such social services as day care (Iris Court Day Care Center, the Children's Club), the Multnomah County Detention Home (eighteen years). It has been involved with Women in Community Service (Job Corps) both nationally and locally, and was responsible for all promotion for Sesame Street.

The NCJW affiliated with the City of Portland in 1976 when we contracted to administer the SWYSC, and have demonstrated our ability to successfully operate the Center. This is evidenced by the quarterly reviews attached.

In 1978 the NCJW also operated the Southwest Youth Recreation Program funded by a CETA Special Projects Grant and successfully served the youth of southwest Portland with a drop-in Center and planned activities emanating from that Center.

In response to the need stated in the Youth Service Center Reassessment Project for more YSC visibility, NCJW has contracted with CETA to employ a Public Relations Person for a six month period. This person's responsibility will be to do public relations for the entire Youth Service Center System.

The NCJW's style of administering the Southwest Youth Service Center differs from other agencies. Our Project Director has an office in the YSC facility and interacts with the staff of the agency as another staff person. She attends all staff meetings and is an integral part of the decision making process in terms of program planning. She personally processes all payroll and payroll records. She does the bookkeeping, and organizes and submits the city invoices in a timely manner. She is advised by a CPA and an attorney and is responsible to the Executive Committee of the NCJW.

She is expected to do public relations for the SWYSC and advocacy for youth throughout the State of Oregon. In addition she is a fundraiser for the YSC and is currently coordinating the fundraising event sponsored by the Citizen's Advisory Board (CAB), the NCJW and the S.W. Community Relations Team of Pacific NW Bell.

The NCJW has committed their volunteer corp for publicity, public relations, and fundraising. The Board of Directors of NCJW will make all major fiscal decisions for the SWYSC and approve any contracts entered into on its behalf. They will always act as advocates for youth diversion and alternatives to incarceration and will continue as advocates for the Youth Service Center. They will continue to have two NCJW members on the CAB. In addition to taking an active part on the CAB these people are responsible to keep the NCJW Board informed of the activities of the SWYSC. NCJW Board has budgeted monies for allocation to the SWYSC and plans to do so again during the next fiscal year.

The National Council of Jewish Women's National Resolutions include the following:

- 1. To give priority to human need.
- 2. To promote the welfare and rehabilitation of children by working for
  - a. special services for them and their families.
  - b. an adequate number of community based treatment facilities as an alternative to incarceration.
- 3. To promote and support a system of programs and services which meet the needs of all families including single parents.
- 4. To promote programs concerning family planning, reproductive choice and teenage pregnancy.

Toward these ends the NCJW is committed to continuing the administration of the Southwest Youth Service Center and will encourage the expansion of such programs as recreation, education and employment. A special emphasis will be placed on teenage pregnancy and single parent families will be a major concern.

As is stated in #9 Community Participation the NCJW is part of a Federal Grant proposal for advocacy throughout the State of Oregon and is exploring the possibilities of acting as advocates for children in foster care proceedings in the Multnomah County Juvenile Court.

Our commitment to children and youth is a long standing one. NCJW's policy is "to fill the need". The need for service and advocacy for youth has been clearly demonstrated throughout our state. NCJW is willing to accept the responsibility.

9. Community Participation: (Describe the citizen involvement in planning this project, the methods and expectations for community involvement in the project's operation. Describe the functions of the Advisory Council as they relate to this project. Describe staff, Advisory Council and Corporate Board relationship.)

The National Council of Jewish Women (NCJW) and the Southwest Youth Service Center (SWYSC) have a history of actively involving community residents in our activities. We project that we will continue our high level of community participation through the use of community volunteers in recreational activities and programs, day care for the Young Mom's who attend support groups, tutoring and the Big Brother/Big Sister Program.

The SWYSC has an active advisory board comprised of parents, former clients, staff of other community agencies such as counselors from Jackson and Wilson High Schools, the Housing Authority of Portland, CSD, JDH and the Police. This group meets monthly to advise the staff and provide the following:

- 1. To continually assess the needs of the southwest Portland geographic area to be served that relate to youth and youth serving agencies, and review the Youth Service Center programs in relation to those needs;
- To revise the goals, objectives, and programs of the SWYSC as the needs of the community and youth change, within the Standards and Guidelines of the SWYSC;
- 3. To work with the Center Director to meet the presently identified needs of the community and youth;
- 4. To work with the Center Director to assist in the provision of services and advocate for those services the Center cannot meet or which are not available in the community.

The goals and objectives stated in this project description have been reviewed and approved by the CAB. As particular activities are scheduled, youth and adult participants are asked to provide input into the structuring of the group activity. All programs are intended to be a responsive step to meeting the needs of southwest residents. This year the commitment of the SWYSC Advisory Board has been fundraising. Toward that end the Advisory Board has joined with the Southwest Community Team of Pacific NW Bell and NCJW to sponsor a fundraising event for the SWYSC. Another event is planned for fiscal year 1980 - 1981.

The plan for utilizing volunteers is one that is flexible and adapts to the needs and interests of the community volunteers. We use volunteers in all areas of our program depending on their level of skill and interest. For example:

- 1. Big Brothers and Big Sisters
- 2. Casual Labor
- 3. Tutoring
- 4. Recreation
- Counseling
- 6. Citizen's Advisory Board

A unique aspect of our plan is that we provide two hours of training once a week for our volunteers. This training includes a workshop on communication skills, value clarification and an opportunity to do role playing in order to improve helping skills.

Another aspect of our plan is that our volunteers receive direct supervision and support from project staff and Volunteer Coordinator.

Community support and advocacy for youth are priority areas for the NCJW and the SWYSC. We have spoken publicly at PTA meetings, before school advisory boards, church groups and service clubs. We also maintain an active CAB.

The staff of the YSC attempt to influence and improve service for youth throughout the city and state. The Project Director sits on the Steering Committee of the State Juvenile Justice Advisory Committee, has helped in the planning of the Conference on Women in the Justice System. She has also applied for membership on the County Juvenile Services Commission and the MSD Criminal Justice Advisory Committee.

The Center Director sits on the Wilson High School Advisory Board, the Portland Public Schools Youth Services Committee, the City County Youth Policy Committee, and is chairperson of the Tri-County Youth Consortium. He also participated in the Metropolitan Youth Commission "Plan for Youth Services for the '80's".

The Volunteer Coordinator is on the Ecumenical Ministries of Oregon Committee on Foster Care as well as chairperson of the Tri-County Teen Pregnancy Services Network. She is also on the Teen Pregnancy State Task Force.

Since 1976, when NCJW affiliated with the City of Portland they have participated with the Citizen's for Children on their Juvenile Concerns Committee and presented a forum on status offenders and their relationship to the juvenile justice system. Recently they ran two candidates for the White House Conference on Families and played an active role in the State Conference on Families. They also participated in the coalition for school integration. They are currently involved with the Oregon Youth Work Alliance in developing an educational day in which leaders of the social service community will learn about youth diversion and alternatives to incarceration. NCJW is also part of a federal proposal submitted to the office Juvenile Justice to provide advocacy for youth throughout the State of Oregon. We are now exploring the possibilities of acting as advocates for children in foster care proceedings in the Multnomah County Juvenile Court.

10. Coordination: (Describe the intentions to coordinate this project with other community organizations and statutory agencies in the service area. Briefly discuss program and service exchanges that may occur. Identify staff positions responsible for these activities.)

The Southwest Youth Service Center has committed much time and energy towards coordinating services in SW Portland as well as throughout the County. Coordination takes place within every program area at the Center. Listed below is a description of this process.

1. Counseling:

Throughout the year counselors meet with teachers, school counselors and social workers and school administrators. These meetings lead to referral of clients as well as the formation of counseling groups in the schools (see attached letters from Wilson and Jackson High Schools). This past year the counseling staff received referrals from every school in the southwest and northwest area and operated groups in Metropolitan Learning Center, Hayhurst, Robert Gray, Wilson, Jackson and Smith Schools. Lincoln High counselors have invited the counselors to form a group at their school in the Fall of 1980.

Throughout the year a staff person is assigned as a liaison to the neighborhood schools and serves as the Center representative to that school. This linkage allows the Center to stay in close communication and assists the Center in meeting the needs of each school's students.

The IFI program is another example of this Center's committment to service coordination. The Morrison Center and the Youth Service Center have entered into a formal working agreement that provides for sharing of staff, space and referrals. This agreement brings a much needed counseling service to southwest residents.

Finally, this Center coordinates counseling services with CSD, local churches, Outside-In, County Mental Health, Harry's Mother, the Health Service Center, the Psychology Center, Friendly House, and Neighborhood House. Counseling staff have planned in-service trainings, jointly sponsored groups, received and referred clients, and competently provided services to residents of the Westside by successfully coordinating its services with these agencies.

Formal working agreements exist with Harry's Mother, Portland Public Schools, Children's Services Division, Portland Police Bureau and Multnomah County Juvenile Court.

2. Recreation, Employment and Education:

The Youth Advocate is responsible for coordinating services in these areas. This Center will receive federal scholarship money from P.A.C.T. to assist low-income youth this summer. Additionally, the Youth Advocate has arranged to serve free lunches from Portland Public Schools, at the Hillsdale Terrace Summer Recreation Program. Field trips are planned in conjunction with Neighborhood House, the YWCA/YMCA, Catholic Family Services, the other Youth Service Centers, and the Portland Parks Department. These jointly planned recreation activities continue throughout the year.

Employment and educational activities are planned by the Youth Advocate through coordination with the School Work Experience Coordinators, teachers, and local businesses. There are no formal agreements governing these types of interactions, yet there is a long history of mutual planning and implementation.

3. Restitution:

The Restitution Coordinator has established twelve community service restitution sites. Youth assigned for restitution are placed at these sites and the coordinator receives follow-up information through use of feedback forms. The coordinator expands the number of sites throughout the year as the need arises.

4. Tri-County Coordination:

Staff at the Youth Service Center (Director and Volunteer Coordinator) have been instrumental in establishing two service delivery consortiums. One is the Tri-County Youth Services Consortium, the other is the Teen Pregnancy Task Force. Both of these networks are comprised of service providers and their aim is to enhance service delivery, share information, provide for multi-agency group trainings and advocate for institutional change. Both Youth Service Center staff serve as chairpersons of their respective consortiums and plan to continue in that capacity during the coming year.

In summary, this Center has worked actively with other service providers to ensure comprehensive planning and delivery of services. Each staff person is responsible for serving as a liaison to specific agencies and schools. The Director monitors the staff's coordination efforts on a monthly basis and assists in identifying the areas where additional coordination is necessary.

The SE Youth Service Center is an integral part of the Youth/Family component of PACT, designed to offer multiple services & programs to strengthen the ramily & provide youth development opportunities for young residents of the area. Identified needs are addressed by:

- providing direct positive experiences (to youth 10-18) in the areas of counseling, employment, recreation, and crisis assistance;
- 2. accessing youth/families into other appropriate existing programs thru an existing system of intra/inter agency agreements & available referral resources
- 3. advocating for system changes that inhibit positive youth development
- 4. involving youth in program planning & peer support services

PACT's goal is to improve the quality of life for residents of SE Portland. PACT, Inc. manages a "system of components" in SE Portland - multiple options for the residents of the area, toward the achievement of that goal.

PACT's system wide planning, fiscal & administrative capabilities allows for consistent, quality program operation, the development of new & innovative programs, supplementary funding for existing programs and fiscal accountability.

1. Statement of Problem/Documentation of Need: (Provide a concise description of the conditions and problems to be addressed by the project. Quantifiable, measurable terms should be used. Verify that the problem exists with documentation.)

Planning Process:

- A. In July of 1979, the PACT Board of Directors, interested community residents & agency representatives began initial discussion & planning for determining the needs of residents of inner SE Portland & to develop three year goals/strategies to address those needs. In order to best determine the needs it was determined that a broad variety of input was needed. In order to facilitate this, a Survey of Unmet Needs was developed. This survey was sent to:
  - -70 Representatives of Agencies serving SE Portland;
  - -5000 Residents of SE Portland; and
  - -used as a research tool for review of all PACT client personal needs assessments in files at the five PACT Program Sites.

Thirty percent of the Agencies & eight percent of the residents responded to the survey. This information was tabulated in conjunction with the information gleaned from over 1000 unduplicated clients files. The results, after priority computation, resulted in identification of the top priority needs/problems of residents of the PACT target area:

These problem priorities were then crass-checked with:

- -Census data;
- -Demographic data;
- -Telephone surveys of helping agencies, media, educational institutions, comsumer groups, utility companies, & governmental offices (for statistics).

After thorough analysis of all available data, the PACT Board of Directors determined that the following fifteen problems were a fair & accurate representative of needs of the residents of inner SE Portland.

Problem & Needs Assessment

Priority #	Problem
1	Inflation
2	Red-Tape
3	High Cost of Food
4	High Cost of Utilities
5	Drug abuse
6	Ability to Purchase Home
7	High Cost of Health Care
8	High Cost of Housing
9	Availability of Low Cost Housing
10	Juvenile Delinquency
11	High Property Taxes
12	Lack of Fuel for Heating
13	Crime Victims
14	Lack of $ for Home Repair
15	Energy Problems

B. In January & February of 1980 the Youth Service Center Citizen Advisory Board, composed of adults from Police, Schools, CSD, Private Business, other various professions (homemakers, mothers, fathers) and youth held several meetings to prioritiz the needs of SE area youth. During this same time period the SE Youth Council (implemented by the YSC Staff) held meetings to prioritize needs as they percieved them.

In coordination with the above planning process the staff of the SE Youth Service Center spent time reviewing statistics & gathering data from the previous five years of operation that would give indications as to the need of the youth in SE Portland.

As a result of the PACT Board Planning Process the following Multi-Year Plan was developed for PACT, Inc. to address the Problems of Red-Tape, Drug Abuse, Juvenile Delinquency (46% of the needs assessment respondents rated indiv. delinquency as a prime or secondary concern) & Crime Victimization.

Three Year Goal: To Maintain & improve the ability of the SE residents to live independently & interdependently, which is threatended by crime victimization juvenile delenquency & substance abuse.

Three Year Strategy: -Provide Prevention Services & Diversion Services to Youth & their families

-Provide Supportive Counseling Services

-Informing & educating the community about services available

-Organizing socialization & recreation activities for youth/elderly/others

One Year Goal/Programs:-Operate & Maintain the Youth Service Center in accordance with existing Standards & Guidelines

-Provide Comprehensive Emergency Assistance to SE residents, in all PACT facilities

-Provide Individual & family Advocacy to assist provision of services to eligible residents

-Provide organizing & Social Action Advocacy to address issues that effect the lives of inner SE residents

Specific Conditions & Problems to be Addressed by Operation of the SE Youth Service Ctr.

- 1. Problem: Large numbers of Youth becoming involved with the Juvenile Justice System for status offenses or minor misdemeanors, leaving negative labeling of the youth & over loading the Court System:
  - A) Approximately 5,358 youth in 78-79 & estimated 5,100 in 79-80 have been involved with the System for these offenses (Juv. Court Statistics).
  - B) The SE YSC has diverted 2379 SE area youth for these offenses since 1973 & provided preventive service to many times this amount.
  - C) The Portland Youth Service System in the City has diverted 25,822 youth since 1974.

Identified Need: A Community based Program for the diversion of youth out of the Juvenile Justice System which will provide counseling, support activities & follow-up for the youth & their families.

- 2. Problem: Large number of SE families with youth "at risk" of entering the Juvenile Justice System. Many have no or poor family support systems, live in poverty, are unaware of available options (or can't get to them), or don't fit into existing systems (public schools, "normal" recreational programs, etc).
  - A) Studies show a high correlation between poor socio-economic conditions & "delinquency".* SE Portland has been designated a "Poverty Picket" by the Federal Community Services Administration.
    - -45% of the population of SE Portland live below the poverty level or have marginal incomes & are considered new-poor (1970 census data).
  - B) Studies show a high correlation between single parent-families & "delinquency"*
    -significantly higher than the rest of the city are SE residents who are one perent families with young children living in poverty & poor families with children involved in domestic violence cases (demographic overview of Inner SE Portland, PACT, Inc. 1979).
  - C) The dropout rate for SE area schools is greater than the rest of the City.
  - D) The Youth Service System Reassessement Project identified the following problems as percieved by a random sample of youth in SE Portland:
    - -getting along at home 51%
    - -problems related to boredom 57%
    - -handleing painful feelings 46%
    - -handleing pressure from friends 43%

  - E) The YSC Citizen Advisory Board, Youth Council & Staff have identified the following specific problems of youth in SE Portland:
    - -intra-family relationships & family communications
    - -lack of education regarding; family life, responsible sexuality, drug & alcohol employment laws, child abuse, parenting
    - -lack of options for leisure time activities
    - -lack of Shelter Care
    - -lack of Alternative Schools

Identified Need: A Community Based Program, easily accessable to youth & families of SE Portland, that can provide preventive services (recreation, education, employment) & advocacy for youth & families and be a focal point (non-threatening place) to go when in need of assistance of Information/Referral.

The above Problems are further varified by Tri-County Community Council Report, Community Needs Assessment- Human Services for the 1980's, which identified the following problems (in priority) by category:

Social Functioning

- Family breakdown
   Inadequately prepared parents
- 3. Children requiring outside care
- 4. Bored & unoccupied youth
- 5. Children requiring substitute living situations
- 6. Teenage pregnancy ...

Crime & Justice

- 1. Damestic Violence
- 2. Rape
- 3. Status Offerders...

"... Families may be broken by divorce or separation, or may be together, but still unable to provide for the psychological and/or physical needs of their members.

Evidence of youth problems, such as runaways, dependence on alcohol & drugs, & crime and delinquency, are indications that families are unable to carry out their functions ..." (pq. 20)

"The Juvenile Justice System is overburdened by the caseloads of youth who have committed acts which if committed by an adult would not be considered unlawful. The present system (which treats criminal & non-criminal juvenile violators alike) helps to create a delinquent identity for the status offender" (pg. 26)

2. Statement of Project Goals: (The project goal is a brief statement of the intent of the project to change, reduce or eliminate the problem identified above. The goal should relate to overall goal statement of HRB's Divisional Unit and to the general purpose of the project.)

To reduce involvement with the juvenile justice system of youth committing, or likely to commit, status and minor misdemeanor offenses in the southeast area of the City by providing an array of community-based direct intervention and support services designed to increase opportunities for positive youth development and to reduce juvenile crime.

To maintain & improve support systems for families & youth in SE Portland.

To reduce the affects of *Negative Labeling, Stereotyping, Retrospective Interpretation & Negotiation (which can cause continued delinquency) after apprehension for a status or misdemeanor violation.

To increase participation of youth in programs & decisions that effect their lives.

· To develop new & innovative programs & approaches which effect positive youth development.

To increase Public awareness of issues that effect youth.

5. Strategy/Method: (Briefly describe the general approach to meeting the stated goals and objectives. Discuss the rationale of this approach and how it relates to the overall strategy of the responsible HRB Divisional Unit.)

PACT will maintain a Youth Service Center which will be open for referrals, from the Police, Juvenile Court, self & others six days per week in a highly visible, easily accessible location within the target area.

In order to achieve the goals & objectives, qualified and trained staff will:

- 1. Provide direct service to assist youth & families in resolving conflict or changing behaviors which may be causing personal stress in the home or community. This will include accepting youth who are referred to the YSC for status or minor misdemeanor offenses and unmanageable problems in the home. Services will include counselling; recreation, education and employment assistance; case sharing and coordination with other agencies; restitution placement; and advocacy. A needs assessment and goal—oriented service plan, will be developed with all clients. During development of the service plan, the client and YSC Staff will decide whether further service is best provided by the Southeast Youth Service Center or by another community agency via referral by center staff. In either case, follow—up is provided to insure client needs are being met.
- 2. Advocate with community groups and agencies to change conditions which hinder positive youth development. Conditions or issues will be identified by staff, clients, community members, or other professionals. YSC staff will take leadership in resolving identified issues by providing technical assistance and consultation to agencies, schools, and community groups in planning new youth programs or in changing existing programs. Examples of issues addressed and programs implemented in the past are: The Contact Person Project, The Youth-Elderly Service Program, the advocacy addressing the Shoplifting Law (OR 892).
- 3. Involve youth in projects, program planning and in strengthening natural youth networks. Examples of youth involvement solicited by the SEYSC include an active Youth Council which assists in program planning and needs assessment; youth participation in activity group planning; and peer groups which train youth in communication skills and how to support their friends positively. Included as a focus of the 80-81 program is a peer networking project (see attachment 5a) that will involve VISTA volunteers, center staff, area schools, and middle and high school aged youth in strengthening and supporting natural youth networks (peer referrals, peer-tutoring, etc.).

We have found this three-pronged approach to be the most effective in dealing with the needs of youth and their families in Southeast Portland. Direct services addresses the short-range needs of clients and their families. Community advocacy encourages a climate of positive youth development and an awareness on the part played by agencies dealing with youth and their families in youth development.

Involving youth in program planning and strengthening natural networks enables young people to realize that they are their own best resource and that they have responsibility for and power over their lives. It also helps young people to help one another in their positive development.

These approaches relate directly to HRB's Youth Service Center's philosopy as outlined in the Standards and Guidelines.

These approaches have been proven succsssful in helping youth and their families during PACT's six-year administration of the Southeast Youth Service Center.

6. Service Area, Target Population and Eligibility Criteria for Services:
(Describe the service area to be covered by this project and the target population for each service to be provided. Explain how each target population will be identified. State the eligibility criteria to be utilized for each service provided and the method for appeal or exception.)

PACT, Inc. manages a system of components in SE Portland designed to offer multiple options for the residents of the area. The major components of this system are:

- -Youth Service Center
- -Senior Service Center
- -Community Action Program
- -Weatherization Program
- -Weatherization Materials Buying Cooperative
- -Home Resource Center (Tool Library)
- -Community Food & Nutrition Program
- -SE Neighborhood Facility Management
  - a) Metro Emergency Service
  - b) Mens' Resource Center
  - c) Neighborhood Assistants Crew
- -New Program Planning & Community
  Development

These Programs are community based in four separate locations in SE Portland. Seven of the Programs are supported by citizen advisory boards composed of community residents.

Because of the Multi-Service concept of the PACT System, PACT is in a unique position of being in touch with a significant segment of the SE Community and Resources

The PACT Board of Directors is a 21 member policy-making Board that grew out of the Community Action Program and is incorporated as a non-profit corporation. The Board provides a community base for PACT programs; a sounding board for the community, legal and fiscal responsibility for grants and contracts of the corporation. The Board of Directors will monitor the program for quality and contract compliance through monthly reports; review and approve proposals for contract amendments and/or funding requests. One-fourth of the Board members are elected each year by the inner SE community. Members of the Citizen Advisory Boards and other community groups take the opportunity to become members of the board and provide linkages to their own program.

The PACT Board and the Citizen Advisory Board have a written agreement to define their respective roles and responsibilities (attachment 68).

9. Community Participation: (Describe the citizen involvement in planning this project, the methods and expectations for community involvement in the project's operation. Describe the functions of the Advisory Council as they relate to this project. Describe staff, Advisory Council and Corporate Board relationship.)

Planning Process: During the Fall of 1979 the PACT Board of Directors & the Youth Service Center Citizen Advisory Board began discussions regarding the role of the Youth Service Center within the PACT System. A joint Committee made up of two CAB & two PACT Board members (with staffing by PACT & YSC) was set up to research the needs of the SE Portland Youth, the availability of resources to meet those needs and to make a recommendation regarding the future role of PACT in providing direct Youth Services (see attachments 7 a & 7 b regarding this process).

At the December 1979 PACT Board Executive Committee Meeting it was decided that the needs of the SE Youth Community could best be met by PACT's retention of the YSC contract with the City and that PACT would submit a proposal to continue the operation of that center.

On January 1980, the YSC Citizen Advisory Board made a decision to "support PACT in its bid for the Center" contract with the City because of PACT's "Community Base" and "fiscal accountability" (see attachment 7 c). Since that time the Citizen Board and Youth Service Center Staff have worked together on the budget/staffing decision and the appropriate activities to achieve objectives for the 1980-81 contract. This process was completed and approved at the April 1, YSC-CAB monthly meeting and referred to the PACT Executive Committee and Board for action and approval (also see previous section on Needs Assesment).

Community Involvement & Advisory Council Relationships: Community involvement in the operation of the YSC is maintained by the active participation of community members on the Citizen Advisory Board and as Volunteers in the program.

The YSC Citizen Board decides policy as it relates to the Center operation and advises the center on implementation of programs, the CAB:

- 1. Assists in program development to meet identified community needs.
- 2. Advises on program implementation.
- 3. Acts asliaison with the greater community and the PACT Board and advocates on behalf of the YSC.
- 4. Assists in screening and hiring of the Center Director.
- 5. Assists in fundraising and developing alternative funding.

The YSC-CAB will advise and recommend to the Director and the PACT Board of Directors concerning issues, program planning and direction, center policies and budget development/adjustments. The Deputy Director of PACT and the YSC Director staff the YSC CAB and act as ex-official members. A PACT Board member is assigned to the YSC CAB as a liaison between the two Boards.

Efforts at involving all segments of the community in the planning and implementation are also enhanced by maintaining an active volunteer program through the employment of a volunteer coordinator on staff at the center.

Volunteers at the SE Youth Service Center are utilized in the following areas:

- 1. Program monitoring, needs assessment and program planning.
- 2. Youth Activity Group Supervision is provided by volunteers.
- 3. Big Brother / Big Sister Program.
- 4. Staff assistance activities such as special projects, client assistance and advocacy.

10. Coordination: (Describe the intentions to coordinate this project with other community organizations and statutory agencies in the service area. Briefly discuss program and service exchanges that may occur. Identify staff positions responsible for these activities.)

Intra-coordination among PACT programs is achieved through bi-weekly meetings of PACT Program Managers (including the YSC Director). Within the PACT organization are direct linkages with neighborhood associations, mental health services for adults and families, welfare and food stamps, advocacy, child care, planning and development expertise and assistance, emergency food and fuel and home repair. All Program Directors in PACT are directly supervised by the Deputy Director.

Using Youth Service System agreements with Police, Juvenile Court, Schools & Childrens Service Division as a quide, local informal working agreements are developed by the Center Director and appropriate local manager. Specific program and service exchanges are then decided by YSC counselors and line workers within the local quidelines.

All YSC staff will assume responsibility for coordination among agencies on the needs of individual clients. An agreement for sharing appropriate information is developed by the Center Director and the appropriate agency personnel. On going linkages will be maintained (with assistance from PACT Administration, PACT Board & Citizen Advisory Board) by the following staff at the Youth Service Center:

Director-CSD, Portland Police, Retail Merchants, Neighborhood Associations, PACT, YSC System, Citizen Advisory Board & Juvenile Court.

Counselor II - Portland Police, MESN, YS System Staff Committee, Washington/ Monroe High School, Cleveland High School, Hosford School and feeder schools.

Counselor I - Franklin High School, Mt. Tabor School and feeder schools.

Youth Advocate II - Sellwood School & feeder schools, Juvenile Court & Restitution Sites.

Youth Advocate I -All recreation & employment resources and Youth Career Training.
