

Keonna Ollison

Bio

Hello, I'm Keonna Ollison. I'm the founder of Office Retreat! Office Retreat is a Black Owned Coworking + Event Space in PDX. It's dedicated to Black, Indigenous and POC entrepreneurs and creatives. I'm a Portland native who's passionate about social justice and community development. In 2018, I graduated PSU's Business Administration program for Management and Leadership. Afterwards, I worked for a non-profit and provided business support for local marginalized business owners.

Statement of Intent

My intent in joining the Police Accountability Commission is to use my voice to advocate for marginalized community members. I'm interested in rectifying a history of discriminatory policing practices aimed at Black and Brown communities.
