Briefing: Interstate Bridge Replacement Program Project (IBR)

IBR and City of Portland Presenters

- Casey Liles, IBR Design Manager
- Hayli Reff, IBR Cultural Resources Program Manager
- Hillary Adam, Bureau of Development Services
- Patrick Sweeney, Bureau of Transportation

Summary

Interstate 5 provides a critical connection between Oregon and Washington that supports local jobs and families, and is a vital trade route for regional, national, and international economies. However, bridge users are impacted by seismic issues, heavy congestion, safety issues, limited public transit options, and inadequate active transportation facilities. The IBR project will replace the bridge and make corridor improvements to a 5-mile stretch of I-5 in Oregon and Washington.

The IBR program will give a project update and discuss the upcoming Supplemental Environmental Impact Statement public comment period and how the commissions can participate.
