Greater alignment—and amplifying our efforts—were the themes at today's Oregon Leadership Summit. The city has done a lot, but we can't do it alone. Every level of government, in partnership with business and community members, is how our actions can make more of a difference.

City leaders, the private sector, and our nonprofit partners have been hard at work planning events for the upcoming holiday season and the new year. Today we also highlighted countless opportunities to show up for Portland and walk our talk when it comes to supporting our city.

 We have acted in a number of ways to help Portland recover, but bolder action is needed to be responsive to the moment we are in. Innovative ideas like this can help our most distressed areas of the central city and help surrounding businesses with increased foot traffic.
