All workers deserve fair pay, safe working conditions, and the opportunity to fully participate and benefit from our economy, community, and our country. Today I'm reminded that each of us has a role to play in building an accessible economy based in justice, dignity and respect.

Pentimento | Community Stories: Memoir, Music & Poetry

is a storytelling event featuring the life and times of community leader Linda Jaramillo, in her own words. Audiences will listen to the formative experiences that shaped her resilience, Latina identity, and self-determination, the qualities that distinguish her as a community leader today in Portland, Oregon.

"It's risky to tell our stories. I hope to inspire today's generation of activists to courageously share in the journey we hold in common." Linda Jaramillo, Community Elder and Activist

"It is important to elevate the voices of our elders. I believe we have a great deal to learn from listening to those who have walked before us, who hold our stories, and who have paved the way for today's activists to make a difference in this world." Joaquin Lopez, Creative Laureate
