Subject: Pembina Pro-pain Proposal

That's right "pro ain" proposal. We need to stop causing pain to this earth. Even if reparation efforts are made, the earth, and all life on it loose. Planting more trees, or cleaning up the mess we create, or both are not enough. We need to stop our consuming ways of being. Incentivize businesses to come up with great ideas on how to address our apparent needs. Better methods for transporting people and food. Re-using our resources to reduce our continuous buying of stuff.

Enough rambling, I oppose the Pembina Proposal, and I hope you will, too.

There are other ways, better ways... today and in the future.
