Purpose of proposed legislation and background information:

The Development Review Advisory Committee (DRAC) is a citizen advisory body representing those with interests in the outcome of policies, budgets, regulations, and procedures that affect development review processes. The DRAC is composed of 17 members representing different stakeholder groups, such as builders, developers, designers, and neighborhoods.

Portland City Code Title 3.30.030 specifies that members of the DRAC may serve up to two 3-year terms. Current DRAC member Joe Schneider has completed his first term and is eligible for reappointment. In addition, after a thorough review process, Mitch Powell and Michael Harrison are recommended for appointment to vacant DRAC positions for 3-year terms. Finally, DRAC members Rob Humphrey and Dana Krawczuk are being re-assigned to new membership categories that better match the stakeholder groups they represent.

Financial and budgetary impacts:

This legislation appoints citizen volunteers to serve on the DRAC, and will therefore have no budgetary or long-term financial impacts for the Bureau of Development Services (BDS) or the City.

Community impacts and community involvement:

This legislation will benefit the development review process and the community by supporting the continued effective functioning of the DRAC. Each of the 17 members of the DRAC represents a unique stakeholder group to the development review process; making the member appointments specified in this legislation will ensure that their stakeholder groups will be represented.

Public notice regarding the vacant DRAC position being filled through this legislation was provided in multiple issues of BDS's Plans Examiner newsletter. The Plans Examiner is widely distributed electronically to BDS customers and stakeholders, as well as neighborhood associations and community groups. Notice was also provided on the DRAC webpage on BDS's website. In addition, current DRAC members notified their stakeholder groups of the vacant position.

With these appointments, two vacant DRAC positions will remain. BDS is conducting outreach to fill these positions.
